

LISS POST

OAKS CLASSROOM CREATURE

Last week on Thursday 8th October a dragon hatched from a mysterious purple spotty egg in the cupboard.

Oak class were in the middle of a fun English lesson when they saw a red bloodthirsty fearful dragon “lets put it to bed” suggested miss Wilson.

It is a incredible discovery because dragons aren't supposed to be real and dragons are rare.

Miss Wilson is looking after the dragon for now but soon Mr Stanley will look after it and hopefully the class will get to stroke it.
